Mrs. George A. Guild and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Weidling, and Mrs. W. D. Storr, will give a tea, the first of the fall season, Friday, October 6, at Mrs. Guild's home, 1032 Western avenue.

Mr. J. C. Johnston, of Edinburgh, Scotland, has sailed for the United States, for a brief business trip. He is accompanied by a number of business associates, and after the transaction of business in Canada, Mr. Johnston will come to Topeka and will be a guest for a short time at the home of Mrs. Johnston. Mr. Johnston is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Gaw. He is making the trip on the steamship Ararat.

An audience that comfortably filled Unit church last night listened to a piano recital by Bernice Hemus, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hemus, a young pianist who has attracted the attention of those interested in music both by reason of her natural aptitude for music and also her early achievements in the art of piano playing. The program she gave last night was made up of thoroughly classic and high grade numbers, yet not too elaborate or involved to be executed in an understanding way by a young girl of advanced musical perceptions and training. The more rapid numbers were given with a break in the rhythm, that it called out a greater measure of admiration on the part of those who detected it than a perfect rendering of the number would have done. The small hands of the

Miss Gladys Gaw will give a pupils' recital Saturday night, October 7, at Unit church. The public is invited to attend. IN NORTH TOPEKA

Business Man Points Out Need of Traffic Rules.

"Dutch" Goggins Is Arrested Twice on Same Day.

"I'll tell you what North Topeka needs now more than anything else," declared John D. Pratt, hardware dealer, this morning. "A year ago, a man was killed right over there." He pointed to the spot.

"Just the other day one was killed just north of the Melan bridge. We need traffic officers and 'white lines.' One can see lots of drivers of teams and automobiles clinging to the wrong side of the street. We need 150 drivers fined or put in jail."

"Why North Topeka is on the map? We can kill just as many persons over here as to the South Side. The public generally needs to be educated in the traffic rules."

Goggins Ordered Out of City. "Dutch" Goggins, arrested Monday morning on a charge of vagrancy, was released at noon. He went up Kansas avenue, where he immediately succeeded in making himself conspicuous. He was quickly arrested again.

He was released a second time on condition that he leave town. That is, in brief, a day's history in the life of "Dutch" again, on again, gone again. "Dutch," he's coming "fixed" next time. October 9, he is to be tried on a federal charge.

COSMICS BY PETTIT

Washburn Astronomer's Lecture Before Academy of Science Wednesday.

"The Outlines of Cosmic Evolution" is the title of the second lecture of the free popular science lectures of the Kansas Academy of Science to be given Wednesday evening at the Memorial building by Prof. Edison Pettit of Washburn College.

Professor Pettit's lecture is to be given in simple non-technical language and will present an astronomer's theory of the universe. It will be illustrated with forty telescopic slides taken by Prof. Pettit with the great Yerkes telescope of Chicago university, showing actual photographs of world's thousands of times larger than our solar system, in process of evolution from dim-shining fire mists to burning suns and planetary systems like those of which the earth is a part and compared to which the earth is as a grain of sand measured against the American continent.

Professor Pettit has gained a nationwide fame among scientists as the result of his recently published researches in connection with the coming total eclipse of the sun in 1918.

Most of the facts to be presented by Prof. Pettit have been discovered only within the last few years and are not accessible to the general public.

The third lecture will be delivered October 13, by Professor R. M. Allen, Ph. D. of Chicago University, and head of the zoological department of the University of Kansas, upon "The Evolution of Life Upon the Earth."

All the lectures of this course will be published by the Academy and placed in every library and school in the state, for the benefit of students of science.

FIND STOLEN CAR IN N.Y.

State Automobile Department Recovers a Kansas Machine.

Through efforts of the state automobile department, a car stolen last July in Russell county has been found in Clayton, N. Y., and the alleged thief is now in custody.

In July an Oakland car belonging to Richard Lippard, of Bunker Hill, Russell county, was stolen. The state automobile department was notified, and the car was found in Clayton, N. Y., and the alleged thief is now in custody.

Descriptions of the car were sent to fruit in telegrams announcing the recovery of the car and arrest of the alleged thief. The man is now in jail in Clayton and will be returned to Kansas for prosecution as soon as proper papers are secured.

It is believed by Myers that the car was driven to New York state by the thief. The car carried the original license plates of Russell county. The driver was arrested. A reward of $100 had been offered by Lippard for the recovery of his car.

Quick, Painless Way To Remove Hairy Growths

(Helps to Beauty)

Here is a simple, unfailing way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs. With some powdered, deodorant and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface, apply and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the delicate in an original package.—Adv.

I had seen a few moving pictures before tonight, but not many, and of those I had seen certainly none compared with this one in bringing out everything designed by the author."

When I consented to the use of 'Friday the 13th' upon the screen, I was primarily for the desire to be obliging, and I had no very distinct hope of producing anything out of the ordinary.

"But I found myself fairly carried away by the illusion of the picture. Why, it would be utterly impossible to secure any such effect as this Stock Exchange scene upon the stage of a speaking theater. Even the Hippodrome's immense success could not carry out the scene of vastness."

"Until tonight I had no appreciation of the possibilities of the motion picture, and I can begin to understand the congratulations which have been pouring in upon me by wire and mail since the first showing of 'Friday the 13th.' I dare say I shall develop immediately into the first class movie fan—which might come under the description of being 'hust' with my own petard."
